800 years of Kingston History

Jill Lamb, former Head of Heritage Service, will show how Kingston has evolved since the Royal Charter was given to the town by King John in 1200.

She will cover crime and punishment, plague and palaces, trade and taxes, and, of course, shopping!

Friday 17 February 7.30pm, Ham Library, Ham Street

Admission £3. Reserve your seat with Gill Douglas-Smith on 020 8546 9179 or email her at gillham1@john-lewis.com
You can also pay at the door, if there are spaces available
